Guide to the Mabee Family Papers, 1697-1978

This collection, a gift of George Franchere of Dunedin, Florida, consists of almost 600 items, including deeds, wills, letters, inventories, legal documents of many kinds, bills of sale for slaves, and receipts for a wide variety of purchases. As a part of Mr. Franchere's larger gift of the Mabee Farm, the Mabee Family Papers provide a wealth of information the Historical Society will utilize in developing interpretive programs for the farm.

The papers are arranged and numbered by categories, in a style that parallels the system used for the main Historic Manuscripts Collection of the Historical Society. This introductory notebook begins with a listing of the categories used, followed by a categorized numerical list of the documents with an abstract summary of the contents of each item.

The hard copy of this finding aid, located in the reading room of the Grems-Doolittle Library, also includes photocopies of some of the most informative documents.

Finding aid originally transcribed by: Barbara L. Wylie, November 1996. Updated transcription by John Maybee.
