Guide to the James Frost Papers, 1735-1851 (2006.2.19)

Creator: Frost, James, 1783-1851

Accession Number: 2002.2.19

Extent: approx. 2 cubic feet

Source: Donated by Rosanna Frost, unknown date.

Inclusive Dates: 1735-1851

Bulk Dates: 1810s-1851

Access: Access to this collection is unrestricted.

Abstract: This collection comprises papers created and compiled by James Frost (1783-1851), a surveyor who worked in Albany, Schenectady, Montgomery, and Schoharie counties.

Scope and Content Note:

This collection comprises papers created by James Frost (1783-1851), a surveyor who worked in Albany, Schenectady, Montgomery, and Schoharie counties. James Frost worked mostly in the Duaneburg area. The papers include copies of survey sketches, maps, leases, receipts, legal documents, and other materials related to Frost's work. The papers are not only useful in their documentation of Frost's work as a surveyor; the papers are also very useful for genealogical and historical research in identifying where people lived in the area.

Organization Note:

The collection is organized at the item level and categorized by county. See key to abbreviations:

Biographical Note:

(Copied from Thumbnail History of Mariaville & Duanesburg N.Y. [pub. 1992] by Geo. Peeke, former Town Justice of the Town of Duanesburg, N.Y.)

James Frost, Sr., was born in Easton, Washington County, N.Y. in 1783, and when a boy, came with this father's family to Duanesburg, then called Jamesville, after James Duane. His father, Lot Frost, came to the town soon enough to be placed in the catalog of the earlier settlers. The boy, taking naturally to books and scientific knowledge, educated himself and for a time was a schoolmaster.

In the meantime, he had become an expert surveyor and, in connection with the able surveyor, Zoller, made numerous important surveys. He was the engineer of the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad, made many valuable and extensive surveys in Albany, Schenectady, Schoharie, Franklin and Montgomery Counties, N.Y., and laid out the City of Elizabeth, New Jersey.

He married Mary, daughter of Major Marsh, and had five sons and five daughters, three of whom were: General D.M. Marsh of St. Louis, who served in the Confederate cause during the rebellion; Mrs. Daniel Yost of Fort Plain and Miss Louisa Frost of Mariaville. (History of the Township of Duanesburg, Page 170, Schenectady County Library, printed about 1885)

A schoolmaster in 1813, Frost owned an older residence in Duanesburg known as Lots Nos. 64 and 79. He conveyed these properties to Ralph McDougall for a consideration of $4,000 by Referee's Deed, dated March 27, 1895, Recorded April 3, 1895, Book 101 of Deeds, Page 535.

In the City History Center of Schenectady, it is recorded that James Frost was Supervisor of Duanesburg in 1823. He was Surrogate and Coroner (no date) and a member of the Duanesburg Historical Society from 1819 to 1820, and Commissioner of Common Schools in the Town of Duanesburg in 1818.

In 1946, Mr. Efner (Schenectady County Historian at the time) obtained the Frost Collection in the Historical Society from the old J. Frost Homestead. Papers, books, pictures and well-known survey maps were donated by Mrs. Rosanna Frost (This information was gained from Mr. Larry Hart who was Historian for both the County of Schenectady and the City of Schenectady in 1974).

James Frost bought Lot no. 40 on the map of Duanesburg. This lot consisted of about 100 acres and is located in Mariaville on the north shore of Mariaville Lake (then known as Maria Pond). This lot was purchased by Frost on November 10, 1831 (Recorded in Schenectady County Office, Book I of Deeds, Page 13).

In 1834, James Frost built his homestead with reclaimed portions of the Featherstone Mansion which burned in 1829 (See Letter of Clarence Bradshaw, February 6, 1967). A New York State historical marker is in front of the old Frost Homestead, now [1992] owned by George Lyon Peeke, great, great grandson of James Frost.

James Frost died in 1851, Mary, his wife in 1864, and Louisa, their daughter lived on and operated the farm until her death in 1904. Louisa never married, but she apparently brought up their nieces and nephews. One of their nieces was Mary Bell, who married Erastus Lyon and Changed to New Jersey.

FEATHERSTONHAUGH PARK

This farm known as Featherstonhaugh Park was, in those early days, considered one of the most beautiful in New York State. It was part of the Duanesburg patent and was devised by Judge Duane to his daughter, Sarah, who married George W. Featherstonhaugh, an Englishman in 1808. In 1809, George W. Featherstonhaugh erected on the hill overlooking a 60 acre lake, known at the time as Maria Lake and now called Featherstonhaugh Lake, a mansion of English style architecture. This mansion was built about 1200 feet above sea level and it had a 140 foot frontage by 60 foot depth. In all, this farm consisted of 1000 acres.

Processed By/Date:

The Table of Contents was done in large part by Bob Tatge, who has a B.A. in History from Bates College and an M.A. in History from Brown University. It was delivered to the Historical Society, 25 January 1980. The Table of Contents was completed by Carol E. Harvey, a volunteer for the Society.

In addition to this listing, the papers were indexed for names. Reference cards for these names are included in the library's card catalog.

This finding aid was prepared for web accessibility by volunteer Robert J. Jones, September 2011-January 2012.
