160	12 August 1915	C. D. Wagoner, The Schenectady Gazette, Schenectady, NY to C. P. Steinmetz. Enclosure of 10 Telegram pages of an interview Dr. Steinmetz gave to a Mr. Haney. Haney has moved forward to publish them with Dr. Steinmetz's approval, as he contends (in an editorial) that "...the New York Press was out to keep you off the Naval Board...he would have to be biased in writing the interview by causing you to appear pro-German." Mr. Wagoner has confidentially sent this material to C. P. Steinmetz to give him an opportunity to correct the interview and defend himself.
161	No date (Likely 12 or 13 August 1915)	C. P. Steinmetz to Editor, New York Press, New York City. "My interview with Mr. Haney today must be submitted to me for approval and correction before used."

"Wire immediately as follows: The interview as wired to me is not correct, but contains numerous inaccurate and misleading statements, and expressions of opinion very different and even opposite to my statements to your reporter. I therefore can not acknowledge and approve it, but in its present form must decidedly repudiate it and refuse permission to use it until corrected, as agreed by your reporter. I shall do so and return it to you tomorrow."

178	14 August 1915	H. W. Hillman, Dey Electric Corporation, NY, NY to C. P. Steinmetz. "I took up your article matter with the News editor of the N. Y. Press early upon my return yesterday morning. He assured me they would send you copy before printing."
179	No Date (likely 15 August 1915)	McGregor Bonn, The New York Press, NY, NY to C. P. Steinmetz. 182	16 August 1915	C. P. Steinmetz to Editor, New York Press, NY, NY. Dr. Steinmetz's response to the 10 questions posed by McGregor Bonn (See 179-181). For the first five questions, he objects to the NY Presses characterization of President Wilson as an "impractable administrator." Instead of answering the questions directly, he notes "...as an American citizen, the duty of our nation during the present war is: 1) To protest against any and every violation of international law by any of the belligerents.... 2) To carefully guide all or actions...so that the modifications of international law...which...will result from the war are in the interest of humanity and more particularly increase the efficiency of our national defense." He continues by reprinting his article on the submarine as "...the newest and most terrible weapon of naval warfare." He answers the next 5 questions about his loyalty to German and disdain for England by stating that these are false presuppositions that have been arrived at by cherry picking and manipulating his words and deeds.
